with Ciot Detroit

A complete overhaul of this home's original kitchen layout was necessary to design a useable space for a family of four. Relocating the back door and opening two load-bearing walls created the space to add a large island, tying the room together and providing a haven where the entire family can congregate. Doubling the size of the original kitchen allowed endless possibilities for this small space.

“ Judge's Insights

The Heller & Associates project is unique, while the Jacob & Company kitchen is clean and classic. As for the Kathleen McGovern-designed home, what a dramatic transformation!"
